

Our Virtual Garden

March 2016 and one of our allotments is ready for the first session of the season.

Potatoes and broad beans the first to be planted

April 2016

Still cold but the work needs to be done

Come on chaps there are more potatoes to plant.

You water — I'll plant !

What a lot of beans!

Four young gardeners now have their own plots

Everybody is busy planting

May 2016

The sun is shining and we need to work quickly

Potatoes

Beetroot

Peas

June 2016

Beans, potatoes, sweetcorn and tomatoes

July 2016

Nearly all planted

Potatoes

Courgettes

Strawberries

Sweetcorn

Hanging pea baskets

Before

After

June 2016

The fruit and vegetables to take home this week.

Broad beans, potatoes, mangetout, raspberries, strawberries, rhubarb, salad leaves spinach, and courgettes.

This is nice

I like the black ones

I'm not sure what that is

Tastes OK

Taste pots

Not nice

Just give it a try

These are a bit fiddly

We always start with a 'taste pot'.

Working on our individual plots

At work in the Pavilion

There is no reason why a plant pot should be boring !!

Our weekly 'take home basket' of produce.

Return of a 'potato pot' for checking
How many?, How heavy?

The potato pot count and weigh in.

How many? How heavy?
Make sure that you find them all.

The weeds are growing quickly.

We all made a scarecrow.

A group of children are sitting on a grassy lawn in a garden. They are surrounded by several green and blue plastic trays, each containing multiple small black pots with young green pea plants. One child in the foreground is wearing a red shirt and a headband, and is focused on a pea. Other children are scattered around, some looking at the plants and others eating. In the background, there are more garden beds with various plants and flowers. A yellow text box at the top left contains the text 'Sampling time !!!!'. A yellow text box at the bottom right contains the text 'These peas are very nice.'.

Sampling time !!!!

These peas are very nice.

End of season Open Day for parents and friends.

This apple cake is good !

You will eat anything!

Party time!